

STUDENT RECORDS

---

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) is a federal law. This policy serves to notify students of their rights regarding their education records in accordance with FERPA and provide University of Dayton constituents guidelines for maintenance of, access to and release of such records. A complete policy statement on student records in accordance with the requirements of FERPA can be found on this webpage (<https://udayton.edu/policies/enrollment/ferpa/>).